

22 April 1955

Dear General Cabell:

The Joint Chiefs of Staff have asked me to advise you that they have allotted you two spaces this year for career civilian members of your Agency to attend the 1955-56 course to be conducted at The National War College.

The course is ten months in length, and commences in late August 1955.

Your letter of 1 April 1955 named five candidates as students for next year's class, with the request that they be considered for admittance in the order listed; therefore, [redacted] [redacted] will be the representatives of your Agency in next year's class.

It is a real pleasure for me to extend this invitation to you to continue to furnish students to join in the activities of this College.

Sincerely,

H. A. CRAIG
Lieutenant General, U. S. Air Force
